

10 CENTS

A Situation Wanted Ad.

NOT EXCEEDING TO WORDS IN THE WORLD

On Any Week Day or Sunday.

PRICE ONE CENT.

PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, MONDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1893,

ONLY 10 CENTS FOR A 20-WORD SITUATION WANTED ADVT. IN THE WORLD.

VIGIL ANT A MILE AHEAD AT THE TURN.

The Yankee Sloop Outpoints and Outfoots Her Fast British Rival.

IT IS VALKYRIE WEATHER, TOO.

In a Thrash to Windward in a Piping Breeze the Outter Is Not in It.

LEFT ASTERN AND TO LEEWARD.

Only the Fastest of the Excursion Fleet Able to Keep Up.

OFFICIAL START.

0 Varkeria11. 25.00
V'g in 6
TURNING FIRST STAKE.
Viellant 1. 07. 00
Valkyrie

he America's Cup.

According to "The Evening World's" led by a length.

Observers at Hisblands of Navesink, Pully fifty excursion-boats were at Vigilant was in the best position, however, to the windward of Dunrayen's boat, and when she straightened out on the starboard tack and her sails began from the May. to draw she moved up alongside of the British cutter. for half an hour, and then, soon after 12 when Vigilant got over. e'clock, the Yankee boat settled down to Valkyrie to windward, and soon opened draw well. up a big gap between herself and her rival. pretty close to the Jegsey shore, and nent upon her decks, well aft, was obthey made a short tack to port and then served a lady togged out in blue yachtagain to starboard, taking in their jib ing costume, who is evidently to be the topsails.

ses, but showed great speed. She made the turn at the first stake test of 1886.

at 1.07 P. M. Valkyrie made the turn five minutes board tack, heading out to sea. later, and Vigilant was then a mile At 11.25, as observed from Navesink shead, straightened out on a long reach Highlands, Valkyrie had increased her

The gallant Tobin-bronze centreboarder looked then like a three-time travelling the faster of the two winner in real earnest.

is being sailed to-day in a good wind under clear skies and with but a slight haze hanging over the sea. There is a yachts seemingly had plenty of it. long ground swell rolling.

The Sandy Hook observer telegraphed at 9 A. M. that the wind was west-southwest and blowing about twelve miles an hour. The yachts were then in sight of the Hook going down the ship channel in brought the following news of the racers

Hook going down the ship channel in tow. Valkyrie's sailors were getting up the mainsail and seemed to be hard at work.

Vigilant's men were apparently taking things easy. The Yankee sloop's jibtop-sail was up in stops, and some of the sail was up in stops, and some of the sail was up in stops, and some of the were standing near her big mast with hands on throat and peak hall-with hands on throat and peak hall-wirds, ready to run up the mainsail at yards, ready to run up the mainsail at the lower bay for the triangular conthe word of command. Others were ranged along the mainsail boom ready to shove the big piece of timber to leeward when the sail was set.

When off the Southwest Spit at $.10 and also in a neckscarf. A M. the men at Vigilant's main halyards evidently got the word, to haul southwest, and freshening into a nye or away, as they began running aft with six-knot breeze.

"Indications were for a faster race than on Saturday."

"Indications were for a faster race than on Saturday."

"Indications were for a faster race than on Saturday."

"Indications were for a faster race than on Saturday."

"Indications were for a faster race than on Saturday."

"Indications were for a faster race than on Saturday."

"Indications were for a faster race than on Saturday."

"Indications were for a faster race than on Saturday."

away, as they began running aft with the halyards, and the big expanse of creamy white canvas rose like an in-mine aft with the halyards, and the big expanse of creamy white canvas rose like an in-mine aft with the same of the same of procession formation from the point of Sandy Hook.

lines, and were standing on and off to Vigilant, America's pride, is making a the east and south of May, waiting for grand showing in the second race for the starting gun and manoeuvring for position. Each was under mainsail clubtopeail, jib and forestaysail, and was carrier pigeon reports, the Yankee sloop evidently testing the canvas for the beat had a slight advantage just as the start to windward, as the course signals from was mde in the race at 11.25, but Val. May ordered that the first leg should kyrie forged ahead and soon had the be west-southwest, into the eye of the however, thought Valkyrie had the bet. that time near the red-hulled lightship. of the lightship.

The yachts were very close to the lin when the starting gun was fired at 11.25

As on Saturday, the English cutter had the advantage, and she crossed the line The yachts sailed about on even terms first and was clear of it by one length

For several minutes after the start her task and got a hump on herself, as the yachts seemed to be sailing on very racing touts would put it. She passed even terms. The sails of both appear to

The regular order of things seems to have experienced a change on board The windward work took the vachts the English yacht Valkyrie, for promimascot for to-day's contest. This is fol-Vigilant pitched a little in the lumpy lowing out the example set by Lieut. Henn, on board the Galatea in the con-

Both yachts started out on the star for the second stake, with her boom to lead to about three lengths.

At 11.36 Vigilant caught the wind better than her rival and seemed to be

At 11.40 there was very little if any, The second race for the America's Cup change in the positions of the boats. At 11.56 the wind had freshened to twenty-three miles an hour, and both

NEWS BY CARRIER PIGEON.

Messages Brought In from "The Evening World" Tug Mutual. "The Evening World's" carrier

pigeons, flown from the tugboat Mutual.

test to be sailed to-day.

the lower bay for the triangular contest to be sailed to-day.

On board the Luckenback was Lord Dunraven's younger daughter. Lad Windham-Quinn. She wore a cream Colored yachting suit and a sailor hat with the Dunraven colors in the band and also in a neckscarf.

"At 2.30 the wind was still south by The yachts were then coming in so." Dunraven's younger daughter, Lad; Windham-Quinn. She wore a cream colored yachting suit and a sailor hat. with the Dunraven colors in the band

Both yachts were on the starboard tack, heading off shore. Both were under mainsail, jib, forestayeall and club

The breeze had freshered from Valkyrie's advantage was gained in the reliminary manoeuvring and due to Capt. Cranfield's excellent judgment on Capt. Cranneld's excellent juggment on elapsed time.

At 11.30 Valkyrie had apparently increased her lead to three open lengths, but Vigilant was to windward of her rival, and getting a whole-sail breeze that gave promise of sending her up alongside or on even terms with her rival in a very short time.

The excursion fleet seemed to be keep-

The excursion feet seemed to be keeping a respectful distance away to the seeward of the racers, and all but the steamers were being left behind. The yachts were easily seen with the naked eye from this point.

At 11.35 it could be seen that the racers were throwing clouds of spray from their bows, as they forged ahead in the heavy swell. Vigilant did the most splashing. The smaller vessels following in their wake were bobbing up and down in the rollers.

Tollers.

The wind outside was evidently freshcning, as it was inshore at that time, and the prospects for a splendid race were improving each minute
The course for the first leg brought the yachts almost broadside to the Jersey thore. Valkyrie was apparently increasing valkyrie was apparently increasing er lead and standing off further to lee-ward of the Yankee boat. The Briton was about five lengths ahead. At 11.25 she let a medium jib topsail, and Vigilant ollowed sult.

set a medium jib topsail, and Vigilant followed suit.

The racers were making fast time and only a few of the big steamers were able to keep abreast of them.

The wind inshore at this time was due southwest and had freshened to twenty-five miles an hour. The swell seemed to be increasing, for white caps had begun to make their appearance.

The excursion feet stretched out fully two miles to the rear of the racers. W. K. Vanderbilt's big Vallant and the flagship May headed the procession.

At 11:50 both yachts were holding their course on the starboard tack and had not changed the direction taken when crossing the line.

ossing the line. Vigilant seemed to be getting into better position and was closing up the gap which separated her from the Brit-isher. She had apparently made a con-siderable gain in the wind, and then ap-peared to be nearer inshore than Val-The gradual shifting of the wind to

The gradual shifting of the wind to the westward practically made it a close reach for the racers on the first leg of the course. Vigilant was still holding to windward, and slowly but surely over-hauling her British rival. There was, at 11.50, less than two lengths of clear

Predictions were freely made that Val-cyrie would be beaten worse than on race, touched at Bay Ridge on its way out shortly after 8 o'clock. The boat was recognized by those who had read cue and was enthusiastically cheered by the spectators along shore. By 9 o'clock the wind had fallen to a Continued on Second Page.

with is ancored about the bright.
Vigilant was nearly a mile ahead then and only about half a mile from the turning-buoy.
At 1.05 Vigilant took another hitch and went about.

She was then passing the turning buoy. Visilant's time at rounding was 1.07. As soon as Vigilant got around the mark she let out her big jibtopsall and scooted away to the eastward at the speed of an express train.

She was leaving Valkyrie far astern Valkyrie turned the stake at 1.12 and set her jib topsall.

Vigilant at that time had an apparent lead of more than a mile.

GOING DOWN TO THE LINE. Yachts Make an Early Start

from Bay Ridge. Kerr. brother-in-law, did not represent the Earl on the cup-defender Vigilant when that crack sloop left Bay Ridge in tow ais morning. Mr. Langrishe, another of the Earl's party, represented Dunraven on the Yankee boat. The change was made at Kerr's request, he having expressed a desire to sail at least on race of the series on the Earl's boat. There was the usual crowd on band to see the cup-defender and the challenger leave their anchorage. Wolverton, Charles Kerr, the Maraum Watson and Pilot Martin Lyons, who is giving Valkyrie's navigator the benefit of his knowledge of the New Jersey and Long Island coasts, took breakfast together in the Atlantic Yacht Club House

The meal, which was a light one, was eaten hastily, and at 7.34 the party boarded the steam launch Atlantic at the club-house float and were put aboard

Valkyrie soon afterwards. The tug Commander arrived at Bay Ridge at 7.35, and at once passed a tow-line to the cup-defender. At 7.37 the Commander tooted be whistle and the towline was hauled taut Just as the Commander got underwathe tug Pulver, of the White Star liv stopped alongside Vigilant on her wa down and presented the Earl's compliments to Mr. Iselin and his guests.

As Vigilant in tow got well under way the 8 o'clock gun for colors was fire from the Atlantic Yacht Club house. I was answered by one gun from a steam at 11.50, less than two lengths of clear water between them.

The Yankee boat was moving up in great shape. At that time the racers were three miles from the Lightship. Vigilant was still gaining at 12.05, and her bowsprit at that time lapped the main boom of Valkyrie.

An enthusiastic crowd of spectators were viewing the race from the top of the hill in front of the Nayesink Lighthouse, and as the Cup defender forged ahead they cheered and shouted themselves hoarse.

Predictions were freely made that Val.

Bredictions were freely made that Val.

Predictions were freely made that Val. vacht lying at anchor off the Ridge.

be verified by him. The wind was light from south b

Valkyrie and Vigilant Neck and Neck.

WALSH FOR PORT WARDEN.

cood Michael C. Murphy. ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. S .- Gov. Flower to-day appointed John F. Walsh, of New York City, Port Warden of the port of New York in the place of Mi-

PANIC OVER IN RIO.

Austin Corbin's Road Wants a Rival

Restrained from Using Electricity.

The Prospect Park and Coney Island Karlman

Supreme Court, Brooklyn, asked for an in unction to restrain the Brooklyn, Bath and West and Railread from using electricity as a motive End Railread from using electricity as a motive power from running its wires through the ter-minal yard at Thirty-siath street, and from run-ning its ears ever the tracks of the South Brooklyn Terminal Company from Thirty-ninth street Conv. Island. The two roals have had a union depot and the Prospect Park Company claims the West End rund is attempting to stade an agreement. THE EXTRADITION OF WEEKS.

Assistant District Attorney Lindson

Back from Washington.

confer with Secretary Greenam educations the ex-tradition of Francis II. Weeks, the anemples failure inferenced that he submitted to Secretary II is summer of affiliate inference the Greates a number of affiliate inference the various amounts emblerated by Works.

Assistant District-Attorney Lindsay returned chael C. Murphy, resigned.

5 YEARS FOR "BIFF."

Big Frank Ellison Sentenced to State Prison.

Broker Henriques's Assailant En. gages New Counsel.

Lawyer Purdy Will Move for a

Frank Ellison was this morning senenced by Recorder Smyth to five years imprisonment in Sing Sing for assault Henriques. The convicted criminal and slugger of aged men, was marched into Part III. Court of General Sessions at

I o'clock this morning handcuffed to Deputy Sheriff Brown. Ellison had that old sullen air about him, and his brows knitted fretfully as he was taken to the door of the priso ners pen. The pen was filled, so Ellison was permitted to rest in a chair on the out side. He was clad in a blue serge sack suit, and wore a turned over high collar and a white pique four-in-hand tie. His hair was dressed in the style that Harry Montague brought in vogue, and Harry Montague brought in vogue, and which always suggests curing irons. Lawyer Brooke, Ellison's counsel, conferred with his client a few minutes, and together they rend a number of papers, affidavits and the like. Just at this point a rumor swept through the court-room that Ellison had quarrelled with his counsel, Messrs, throoke and O'Sullivan, and that they had determined to withdraw from the case.

Mr. Brooke said to "The Evening World" reporter that naturally their tuttes ended with to-day's proceedings. Mr. Brooke said to "The Evening World" reporter that naturally their intres ended with to-day's proceedings. Mr. Brooke said he had not heard that Ellison was dissatisfied, at any rate Ellison hadn't expressed any dissatisfaction to the lawyers. Mr. Brooke concluded by saying: "We would not be dissatisfied if he determined to express mother stormer."

nined to engage another attorney.

Counsellor Ambrone H. Purdy told the reporters that he had been retained by Ellison and would act as his attorney reporters that he had been retained by Ellison and would act as his attorney hereafter. Becorder Smyth took his seat at 11.20 A. M. The room was over-crowded, Lawyer Brooke at once arose and moved for a new trial, offering a series of exceptions, and finally handing in a fifthey for a new trial, offering a series of exceptions, and finally handing in an affidavit made by a man named Michael Blumberg, who says he witnessed the fight and that Henriques was the assailant. Assistant District-Attorney Wellman and not been served with a copy of this iffidavit, and he called the Court's attention to that fact. Mr. Wellman read he affidavit in court, and he beamed beinging as his eyes ran over it.

It looked as if he thought it a very funny document. He said to the Court that it seemed to be nothing but cumulative evidence.

Mr. Brooke then read the affidavit. Illumberg swore that he saw Henriques fre on Ellison before the latter struck a blow Recorder Smyth denied the motion.

slow accorder Smyth denied the motion Frank Ellison to the bar, said Clerk baconport at exacts 11.40 o'clock. The prisoner rested his hands on the ailing, and when asked what he had to say replied in a firm voice. "Simply that I am an innocent manual was defending my life in every cas." order Smyth merely remarked that y of honest men had found him y, and he believed it was a just rdict.
'And the sentence of the court is that "And the sentence of the court is that on be imprisoned in Sing Sing Prison he term of five years." Ellison's face dropped and he set his seeth. The hue of his cheeks bocame nore leaden than ever and it was easy a see that the blow was a stagger? He was handcuffed like any pattry neak thef to a deputy and marched ack to the Tombs. Ellison will not be taken to Sing Sing Intil to-morrow, and perhaps he will at be obliged to go then. His new attents of the Tombs of the Marched y Mr. Brooks after he left the court-soem, that Brooks after he left the court-soem, that Brooks and O'Sullivan had uthdrawn from the case, will make an withdrawn from the case, will make an affort to obtain a temporary stay of excusion of sentence.

He can procure one in the Supreme Fourt Mr Purdy declared to an "Evening World" man that he wouldn't do our! Mr. Purly accessed to an Lyen-ic World man that he wouldn't do sything right away. Recarding the proceedings for con-mpt which the District-Attorney was institute this meraing against Law-ers Brooke and O'Sullivan, Mr. Nicoll Buy Riker's expectorant. How can you stare to lot that couch run on " fon t you know what it will lead to? Why it i you buy Riken's Experment? 222 st and oth ave. 60 cents a bottle. Those proceedings will not be brought the matter disposed of on some day fol-lowing the sentence of Ellison."

EMMA'S NERVE FAILS.

Therefore it will be Thursday or possibly Friday before any action is taken by Mr. Nicoll.

Walsh, the wealthy brother-in-law of Ellison, and who has been paying all the expenses of the trial, it is under-stood, has withdrawn his financial sup-port, and says he will not put out an-other picayune on Ellison. He thinks Ellison got what he deserved. The Little Anarchist Paces the Court Room Restlessly.

Her Grandmother Attends the Court Appointed by Gov. Flower to Suc-To-Day.

> The Prisoner Gets a Sympathetic Postal Card.

Murphy resigned as Port Warden when he was appointed Excise Commissioner by Mayor Gliroy recently. Walsh is from the Twenty-sixth district.

He is a member of the General Committee and Committee on Organization of Tammany Hall. He was formerly a shoe manufacturer, but falled in business. At present he is in the employ of the Board of Education in a minor capacity. wearing a wig that indicated her orthodoxy in an ancient religion, was among those who attended the concludthe Board of Education in under Sheriff Bacity.

He was Under-Sheriff under Sheriff Davidson, and at one time a School Trustee in the Seventh Ward.

The place of Port Warden pays about $2,500 or $3,000 a year in fees. Anarchist firebrand, Emma Goldman, o-day, before Judge Martine, in Part I. of the Court of General Sessions. This old lady said that she was Emma Goldman's grandmother. She spoke feel-"Emma Goldman lived with me at one ime in Avenue B. She was a hard-vorking girl. She earned 35 a week as dressmaker, and she aiways gave half f her earnings to the poor in our neigh-Banks All Open and Business Going

AN AMERICAN WORKMAN." Mr. McIntyre said he would talk only hirty or forty minutes. Mr. Hall said he did not hope for an acquittal, but extended a disagreement of the Jury. At 11.45 Mr. McIntyre began a management of the evi-andres, in which he arrayed the evi-dence against Emma Goldman in its dence against Emma Goldman in the dence against Emma Goldman in the dence against Emma Goldman in the exstrongest ispect. He began by paying a handsome tribute to three great District Attorneys. Randolph B. Martine, the Judge presiding; De Lancy Nicoli and A Gasey Hall who served from Mr McIntyre alluding to Mr. Hall's assertion that the prosecution of Emma Fire Follows a Querrel.

A man rushed into the lower Fulton street station-house, throoklyn, early this morning, and safe that man and weman, who were attorn quoted the once powerful Disting Attorney Hall in praise and compendation of the Police Department, of leclared that New York had the st policy force in the world.

If McIntyre turked an hour, It is a strong piece for law and order, an aigmment of Anarchy and its agitality was listened to attentively by spidence that filled the large courting the close of the the om.

As the close of the speech there was a suppose for the doors, and the room a sunest vacant when Judge Martine ked the jury if they preferred to hear a charge before or after recess. The rors chose to take a recess. George If Oreen, the var conductor whose preity wife leasts, ran areas with Theodore Morris and lived with him at the Stortevant House until Lay in Wat with a Pistol.

$17.00 to Chicago and Return,

THEN HE WAS BURIED

Elmira Convict's Fate After a

Severe Paddling.

He Was Beaten So That His Overseer Didn't Know Him.

Startling Testimony Before the Be formatory Investigators.

ELMIRA, Oct. 9.-The Elmira Reformatory Investigation Committee continued its inquiry at the reformatory at 9 o'clock this morning. The Committee deems the most important test mony yet adduced to be the statement of Supt. Brockway, under oath on Saturday, that the Board of Managers did not designate the punishment in vogue in the prison. as they are required by law to do Richard J. Murray, who was employed es they are required by law to do.

Richard J. Murray, who was employed as overseer in the printing department in the Reformatory from March until June, this year, testified:

"My attention was first called to the disciplinary measures used in the prison one day in May, when a young boy named Murray was oadded. Later I took him in the printing department.

"Soon after, he was reported for talking, taken to the bath-room and when he returned I did not know him. His left eye was awollen and black and blue. There was a spot under his arm the size of an orange. There was a lump on his forchead and the skin was cut. The cut was about three inches on the cheek.

"Then I was away for three weeks, and when I came back I inquired for Murray. He was then in the hospital, but the next day was "aken out and burled. Murray was about sixten years old, and his home was in Boston."

Judge Gilbert asked the witness what Murray said when he returned from the bathroom. The witness said: "When he returned I asked him where he had been. He said every time he received a talking report he was sent to the bathroom. He said he very time he received a talking report he was sent to the bathroom. He said he very time he received in in the yard doing military duty, who I thought should have been in the hospital. A month interevened between the face.

"I saw a young fellow named O'Laugh-lin in the yard doing military duty, who I thought should have been in the hospital. A month interevened between the face.

"I saw a joung fellow named o'Laugh-lin in the yard doing military duty, who I thought should have been in the hospital. A month interevened between the face.

"It was not my duty to notify anyone of Murray's condition, and I did not do so. There is a rule forbidding overseers or monitors from conversing with prisoners, but I broke this rule several times.

"It was discharged for giving tobacco to inmates in violation of the rules."

"It was discharged for siving tobacco to inmates in violation of the bathroom. Aire was from the way fro working girl. She earned is a week as dessmaker, and she always gave has of dressmaker, and she always gave has of dressmaker, and she always gave has of dressmaker, and she always gave has not here of the liness of convicta. This grandmother refused to give her conversely the panic has subsided competely. This grandmother refused to give her man, but said that she still lived a week before he was taken to the bathways pretty Pauline Seeger, an enthusiant disciple of Miss Goldman. Miss steed the panic has subsided competely. The panic has subsided competely. Business is transacted freely and all the banks are open."

COUNT DE LESSEPS MORIBUND. He has Lost Strongth Steadily in the Last Ten Days.

PARIS. Oct. 5.—Count Ferdinand de Lesseps has lost strength steadily in the last ten days, and is now moribund.

BELLE BILTON'S BABY.

A Daughter Born to the Famous Count-zes of Clancarty.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The fountess of Clancarty for the count-room. The countess was formerly lielle Hilton, a music ball stater. She marted the present Earl of Clancarty in 1183, whose he was Lord Dunio.

Restrained from Using Electricity.

Austin Corbin's Road Wants a Rival Restrained from Using Electricity.

PRESIDENT AND CORDINATE TO Continue to the proposition of the days and the presence of the counted the prese

CASHIER BAIN SENTENCED.

Term. Howard L. Bain ex-cashier of the Home Sav-ings Bank, who last Wednesday pleaded guilty to the larceny of $16,185, was sentenced by to the larreny of $16,182, was sentenced by Judge Pitzgerald in Part II. of the General Sen-sions this morning to four years in State prison. President Stephenson and the directors of the Eark petitioned the Court to suspend sentence. President Stephenson also informed the Judge that if sentence was suspended be would secure for Bain a position. With good behavior the commutation will bring Bain's term of impris-amment down to three years.

Deat of James Butler. MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Oct. 8.—James But-ier, aged seventy-five, died this morning at his home. 9 North Boad street, this city. The deceased was westlify and a retired butcher. He leaves a wife and three sons.

Only $17 'O to the " orld's Fair. Through cars to Chicago in charge of an attendant via West Shore Hailroad 12.00 A. M. Tanday Oct. 10. See full particulars and additional excursions under "Excursions."

"Manhattan Day" at the World's Fair-For cheap excursions, via Erie lines, see "Excursion Column."